Employees Granted Pay Increase

Classified employees of the Upland School District were successful in gaining a six percent salary increase last week, however district teachers are still negotiating for their raise.

Last Thursday night district trustees granted the six percent increase to classified employees in a special meeting after a 2 hour, 40 minute closed executive session. The salary increase will be effective immediately and continue until July 1, 1974. Classified workers include office workers, bus drivers, custodians, food service workers, and generally, all employees other than teachers and administra-

Representatives for district teachers also met Thursday with Superintendent, Bill R. Plaster, the board's representative in salary negotiations, but no settle-ment was reached. Negotiations continued last Friday although no further sessions were scheduled for this week.

The six percent salary increase for classified workers will cost the school district $44,-632 for next fiscal year, reported Glen Hardy, district business manager.

Those funds will come from the district's reserve funds, which will be reduced from a 10 percent to a 9.2 percent level, Hardy said. District taxpayers will still receive an estimated 91-cent tax reduction he stated.

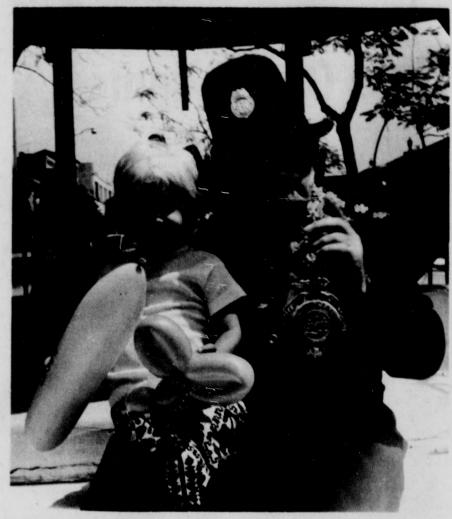

Youth Safety Run Slated For June 27

For the first time ever three members of the Upland Explorer Cadets will be participating in a "Youth Safety Run" sponsored by Union '76.

The twentieth annual run starts Monday and continues until Wednesday, June 27. The trio of Uplanders will drive (safely) from beautiful downtown Burbank to Yosemite and back at no faster than 55 miles per hour.

Detective Gary Hart of the Upland Police Department said the run is judged on the two scores of safe driving and economy. The student drivers are graded on their driving ability and the amount of gasoline they use during the run. Student observers and adult advisors are in charge of the grading as they ride along with the contestants.

Cadet Vince Leone is the driver, Tony Byrnes the co-driver and Ward Wilson the observer in the Ford Pinto which is being furnished by Arena Ford in Upland. Police officers Doug Millmore and Bill Gettings of Upland will be adult advisors for the event.

Hot Asphalt Plant Controversy Rages

Discussion still rages concerning issuance of a Condition-al Use Permit (CUP) to Flintkote Corporation for a proposed hot asphalt plant in Upland planned for the area north of Cable Airport, one half mile west of Benson Ave. and one-half mile south of Baseline Ave.

Last week Judge Margaret J. Morris took under submission a writ of mandate filed by Flint kote which challenges a city ordinance that makes CUP's nontransferrable. In county Superior Court Judge Morris directed the city's attorneys to submit points of authority, or examples of pre-cedent by July 2.

This marked the third county hearing concerning the asphalt plant which emerged in mid-April when Upland City Council re-fused to issue a CUP. At that time City Attorney Donald Maroney pointed out that the city has aiways had a restriction that the CUP is issued to the applicant only and not to the land. At issue currently is the legality of the city ordinance which prohibits the transfer of a CUP along with sale of property.

Final site plans for the plant were approved March 9 by the city administrative committee but it was learned that the CUP was issued to Associated Rock Products, Inc. in 1967. Flintkote now owns Associated Rock.

The city contends the new company would have to re-apply for the CUP. The writ will test the legality of the city ordinance and the judge will also rule if the asphalt company properly met all the conditions outlined in the original CUP issued in '67.

A second question concerning the asphalt plant is whether it is protected by the "grandfather" clause of the state environmental impact report guidelines -thus, not subject to a report and public hearing.

An application for a new CUP, as required under the present city ordinance, would require additional public hearings on the controversial plant construction.

Council Approves New Budget

By PATRICIA REID Of The News Staff

With relatively little discussion Upland City Council accepted the budget for fiscal year '73-'74 Monday night with revisions summarized by City Manager Elwin "Pinky" Alder. Councilman Max Hawkins, chairman of the Finance Committee, moved for acceptance of the city's budget with $11,665 removed from the preliminary budget for parks and recreation and a non-budgeted shop item carried over from last year. Parks requests will come from a special parks acquisition fund according to Alder. He said a $5,000 yearly increase in dog license fees will be used to pay the salary of a public services officer in the city police depart-

After some heated debate concerning an appeal to a planning commission decision that development of tract in northwest Upland "would not have a significant effect on the environment, Mayor Abner B. Haldeman called for a motion to postpone the discussion until the July 2 meeting.

In an unprecedented action planning commissioner Jerry Morris filed an appeal to the planning department and the city council that the proposed tract would not have a significant effect on the environment.

Councilman Hawkins harshly criticized Morris' action and said 'I'm disturbed at his action.' Hawkins further said the act was immature and that Morris should "consider resigning from the planning commission if he can't accept being on the minority

Citizens Group Formed

Twenty-eight local residents have been named to participate as a citizens group for the Chaffey College Museum-Gallery.

The citizens group is comprised of 55 charter members from 11 communities as the Museum-Gallery Auxiliary.

Councilman Hal Bailin added: "I don't agree that being a commissioner means he has to give up the right to be a private citizen. If he feels strongly about it as a citizen he ought to have the right of any other citizen.'

Councilman John McCarthy agreed with Bailin and testified to Morris' sincerity on the commission. Councilman George Gibson said he didn't see any-thing wrong with Morris' appeal. There was some discussion that Morris might have filed for appeal as an elected official to waive the $25.00 required appeal fee.

Bailin stated that while he believed in the right of appeal he could see nothing to indicate the majority of the planning commission was wrong in not requiring an extensive and costly environmental impact report on the subdivision.

Haldeman asked Raymond L. Berry (who co-signed Morris appeal and owns property to the east of the tract) to submit in writing his 10 questions ocncerning the environmental assessment report.

In other action the council unanimously approved a zone change request by Andrew Bar makian for 13.6 acres located at the northwest corner of San Antonio Ave. and 22nd St. from A-1. S-P and R-1-B to R-1-C zoning. The parcel is to be developed into another planned unit development, Several proposed amend-ments to the Upland Municipal Code concerning off street parking requirements in a PUCC (Planned Unit Civic Center) zone were referred back to the planning commission for further

A proposed resolution to gran increased taxicab rates to Paul's Yellow Cab Co. was postponed because of the 90-day freeze mandated by President Richard

It was unanimously approved for Robert Sullivan, the city's chief building official, to proceed with demolition of a substandard building located at 14-

Approval was given for the installation of 93 new street lights in the easterly half of the city (from 9th St. to 11th St. between Euclid Ave. and Campus Ave.) Alder said the lights weren't included in the preliminary budget and would have to come from other funds. This is the second area of the city to receive better lighting. Mrs. Rose Hence from the audience criticized the council for budgeting $1,000 for the Home owners Association since they don't perform a service for the city and there are many other organizations requesting hads which do.

Half-Acre Lots Urged For Euclid

Upland planners approved a general plan designation Thursday that will help assure that northern Euclid Avenue would house only half-acre lots.

By their vote, the majority of the planning commissioners expressed their belief that the area was a prime residential location and that half-acre lots generally hold the most exclusive and expensive homes in the city.

The planners adopted a new general plan designation (0-2), which plans a maximum of two homes on an acre.

The planners also designated a strip adjacent to and east of Euclid Ave. from 17th to 24th St. as planned for the future development of only half-acre lots. The zone will extend west from Euclid Ave. to a point midway between Euclid and San Antonio

An area from just south of 20th St. to 24th St. and from Euclid Ave. on the west and generally Campus Ave. on the east, was also designated for future development of half-acre lots.

In other action, the commission kept its "airport-related commercial" general plan designation for an area on both sides of Benson Ave., south of Cable

The planners rejected a planning consultant recommendation to change the area to a light industrial zone.

It was generally agreed that specific plans for industrial development should be presented before consideration is given to changing the general plan for the

Boundary Shift Results In Student Transfers

One hundred and forty-seven elementary school children will attend different schools next year due to a shift in school boundaries implemented by Upland School Board of Trustees last Superintendent Bill Plaster ex-plained the change would "improve the educational programs for both students and schools involved, equalize enrollment, equalize the availability of space and provide a resource center in each school, accommodate additional students due to future city growth and eliminate the present need for yearly school changes that are detrimental to children.

The proposal was opposed by a group of parents at the meeting. They asked for more time to present an argument against the move, but board members decided not to delay action after Plaster explained his need to have a definite answer this week to complete budget projections, supply requisitions and schedule arrangements for the coming school year.

The permanent shift of boundaries will affect: -- 66 students residing on the north side of 16th St. and west of Mountain Ave. from Sycamore School to Cabrillo School. --22 students residing on the north side of Foothill Blvd. and west of Mountain Ave. from Sycamore to Cabrillo.

--Six students residing on the north side of Foothill Blvd, and west of Benson Ave. from Sycamore to Cabrillo.

--28 students residing between San Antonio Ave. on the east and Mountain Ave. on the west, north from the center of Stetson Ct. to the center of 15th St. from Magnolia School to Sycamore.

--25 students residing within the area bordered by the center of Sinclair Ave. on the east, the center of Benson Ave, on the west, the center of Eighth St. on the north and the center of Seventh St. on the south from Cabrillo to Citrus School. Bus transportation will be provided for all children affected and parents may request that those children who are entering the sixth grade be permitted to finish elementary school at the school they attended during the current year.

Gasp! County 'Gasp!' Adopts A Smog Plan

The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors has responded to recent high levels of air pollution, especially in the Upland area, by adopting an interim contingency plan for notifying the public and reducing contamination when air pollution approaches a level creating a health hazard.

The plan was developed at the direction of supervisors by the Air Pollution Control District's Emergency Action Committee.

Under the plan, when oxidant levels of more than 30 parts per million are predicted for the following day in any portion of the San Bernardino Basin, the APCD will issue a heavy air pollution advisory, the first provision of its type implemented in the state. The news media would be notified and the public urged to curtail unnecessary driving, make use of car pools and limit unnecessary outdoor activities.

The county Superintendent of Schools would request the postponement of outdoor physicaleducation programs and all hospitals would be notified by the county communications department. When a heavy air pollution advisory is issued all precautions normally taken during a community alert at .35 parts per million will be in effect whether or not that level is reached. Should no advisory have been issued the previous day and oxidants reach the community alert stage, precautions would be implemented at the usual level of .35 parts per million.

Also under the plan, when pollutants reach specified federal significant harm levels for one half of the designated time period, helicopters and patrol units of the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department, along with patrol units of the California Highway Patrol and local police departments will broadcast public notices through their loud speakers.

The message will urge citizens to remain indoors, limit unnecessary outdoor physical activity and tune radios to local stations for additional information.

An alert is declared in an area of the basin when one of four toxic air pollutants reaches a harmful level for at least 15 minutes.

The pollutants include carbon monoxide, nitrogen dioxide, sulpher dioxide and oxidants. However, since only oxidants have represented a potentially serious problem; the plan deals only with that contaminant. The board expressed satisfaction in the plan, but emphasized that the full cooperation of surrounding counties will be necessary to make the new procedures effective in reducing air contamination during periods of peak pollution.

Mrs. Garner was working for the Philippine Government in the Department of Commerce and Agriculture when she noticed an ad for employment overseas in Okinawa. She was accepted under a civilian contract to work at Kadena Air Force Base.

Still in the adventurous spirit, she later applied for a job at Mather Air Force Base and was accepted. "I worked in the officer's snack bar as an attendant.'

She met her husband, Robert, in Sacramento. The last time she visited the Philippines was 1961 to introduce Robert to her parents. After a leisurely two months they came to the Upland area.

Mrs. Garner is one of six children. Two of her sisters are doctors. She went to the Philip-pine Women's University.

She indicated government was the major difference between the United States and the Philippines. 'I always had the democratic feeling as it is here in the United States. I love this way of life. American women have everything here, they're so spoiled.

The Filipino middle class women work very hard. Here the women have household appliances. Everything you can buy is terrific. If you get married in the Philippines the wife just stays home and takes care of the chilren. Here the wife works, too."

The diet of Filipinos is different than here, she said. For all meals, rice is included because of its nutrition and low cost. "Breakfast is something like here besides the rice. We have eggs, bacon, and maybe coffee or orange juice. For lunch the Filipinos have a native dish with rice and for supper native dishes with rice and fish.

"We had to import 'cow meat' from Australia. We do have water buffalo, but it's mostly eaten by poor Filipinos. You really have to boil it."

Mrs. Garner found many parallels between the Mexican culture and the Philippine. It could be expected to some degree because of Spanish influence on both countries, she said, but not as much as she expected when visiting Mexico City.

"We have afternoon snacks and siestas like the Mexicans. The city was just like the Philippines to me. The climate, customs and traditions are the same. Both countries are largely Cath-olic."

She explained that Spanish is spoken on the islands, though there are 30 different dialects on the more than 7,600 bodies of land. "The largest city is Manila where was born. There is one half Chinese and one half Spanish influence.' The possibility of statehood for the Philippine Islands did not appear feasible to her. "I don't think the Philippines will be a state, although the Air Force and Navy bases are needed."

The major difference between the United States and the Philippines is financial, she said. "Unless you own your busmess or are wealthy, you have a bad time." The two countries do have things in common, she said, especially in the sports world. "Jai alai is the favorite sport, but boxing, swimming and golf are very popular. We have international invitational tennis tournaments and of course Philippine boxers have traveled to

to the United States."
"I really like sports, especially basketball Tennis is not so popular in the Philippines, mostly because of the climate. Baseball and football are not played. "I was so confused about the rules of football when I first came, but it was so thrilling to me." Both Mrs. Garner and her husband are avid Laker fans. "I really care about my community," she said. "At the next meeting of the club I will be proposing that we help out one of the drastically needed programs in Upland. I'm concerned that the city is good. This can be a better community, like beautification, I especially like the Euclid Ave.

e compared prices with major supermarket chains all around the area, again last week. We compared Mayfair's discount prices with "specials", "total discount" and most kinds of prices. Last week Mayfair's overall food prices were lower than five other top chains.

To make these comparisons more fair, we used Uncle Sam's list--the same list of 90 some items that the U.S. Department of Labor uses to measure food prices as part of the cost of living.

As shown the savings at Mayfair on this item list ranged from $.25

We don't just say "food cost less at Mayfair." We mean it -and we prove it.

New Dressing Mix Cuts Calories

A new salad dressing mix that is all-natural and has been developed especially to blend with yogurt is now being introduced in Southern California supermarkets. Here's a new salad dressing that is not only good--but it's also good for you.

Because all of the ingredients in Hunza Caesar Dressing Mix and Hunza Herb Dressing Mix are natural, dressings made with them have the true flavor of the ingredients themselves. They contain no preservatives, no chemicals, and no monosodium glutamate (M.S.G.). Ingredients of the herb dressing include turbinado sugar, natural spices and seasonings, and sea salt; the caesar dressing also contains blue when blended with plain yogurt, these two new dressing mixes make a creamy salad dressing with less than half the calories of dressings made with other mixes that call for sour cream, mayonnaise, or oil. Using low-calorie yogurt means the dressing has only one-third as many calories as a dressing made with sour cream, for example, and less than one-tenth the calories of dressing made with mayonnaise.

Yogurt is one of the nutritious foods you'll want to include in your diet because it is a good source of protein, riboflavin, calcium and other nutrients. It offers good nutrition to people who don't drink milk. When you can afford the calories, the new dressings are delicious when made with sour cream. Or, try blending half yogurt and half sour cream, or sour cream and buttermilk, or yogurt and mayonnaise. The blends of yogurt and one of the other foods are recommended particularly for people who have not cultivated a taste for plain yogurt -- but would like to take advantage of its calories.

Uses and variations of the new mixes are almost limitless. The dressings are good on mixed green salads, vegetable salads, and fruit salads because they coat the ingredients well. They can be used on vegetables, meats and sandwiches. The herb dressing makes a perfect dip for carrot and celery sticks. The cheese ingredients in the caesar dressing make it especially good when spooned onto piping hot baked po-tatoes, or over chilled sliced tomatoes. After mixing, the dres-sing is improved by allowing the flavors to blend for an hour or

Here are a few variations you might like to try:

--Baked Potato topping: to the caesar dressing add 2 table-spoons chopped chives or onion

-- Cheese Topping -- for Po-tatoes: to caesar dressing add 1/4-ounce blue cheese, broken into chunky pieces.

--Herb Dip: to herb dressing add 2 teaspoons minced green onlions and 1 tablespoon chopped black olives. Let blend at room temperature one hour and refrigerate. Serve with corn chips. -- Anchovy Dressing: to caesar dressing add chopped anchovies and crushed bacon bits. Garnish with additional bits of bacon. -- Topping for Chilled Tomato slices: over caesar dressing sprinkle 1 teaspoon sweet basil leaves. Garnish with fresh pars-/ -- Honey - Yogurt Fruit Salad Dressing: to herb dressing add 1/4 - cup honey for a sweeter dressing for fruit salad.

In Spanish Picadillo Pie

Ground Beef Becomes Party Fare

Most any housewife will welcome new ideas for cooking ground beef, ground lamb or most any inexpensive meat during these days of increasing food prices.

With a little ingenuity and imagination, it is not difficult to transform ground meat into any number of dishes, but the busy housewife always will try a new one with easy specific directions, such as this one, with Spanish influence.

It calls for browning the hamburger with onion and a hint of garlic; adding tomatoes, capers, and pimiento-stuffed olives. Then it is cooked in a crisply tender pie crust.

In Spain, they'd call the meat mixture Picadillo, which means chopped food, or in other words hash. So the logical name for this new dish is Picadillo Pie.

Served with saffron or yellow rice, black beans, and Cuban bread, I had Picadillo at El Cacique in Key West on a re-cent boat cruise of the Florida keys. These foods would be a natural addition to a Picadillo

Don't Be 'One': Here's Best Way To Buy Ham

"Smoked" or "fully cooked" are among the many terms used to describe ham sold. Terms such as "butt half," "shank half," and "center slices removed," can be confusing to shoppers," says University of California Home Advisor Sharon

She defines "ham" simply as the upper part of the hind leg of a hog.

Hams that are smoked only are heated to an internal temperature of 140 F. This temperature insures complete protection against the danger of getting trichinosis.

However, the smoked ham needs additional cooking to 150 F-160 F to fully cook before serving.

When labeled "fully cooked," the ham is heated to an internal temperature of about 150 F. Again, this is sufficient to kill any trichina. This "fully cooked" ham is ready to eat and may or may not be heated before serving.

Hams are sold whole, or often cut in half and rewrapped. Those cut in half are labeled as "butt half" or "shank half."

Now which is the best meat buy? The butt half is the "upper" part of the ham (which comes from nearest the body of the hog). It is chubby and rounded and according to Mrs. Higgins, it generally has a higher proportion of meat to bone. Shank half is the "lower" part of the ham. It is more pointed and has a lower proportion of meat to bone and may be lower in price to the butt half.

Often, "center slices" are cut from the two halves. These center slices are repackaged and sold separately. The two re-maining "halves" should then be labeled as the "butt end" or "portion" and the "shank end" "portion" to tell shoppers of the removal of the center slices.

Often pork products are confused with ham. Such products can errorneously be called "picnic ham." In reality these cuts are "pork shoulder picnic". and "pork shoulder butt." They actually come from the front shoulders of the hog, and are not ham. . Mrs. Higgins adds that it is important to read all parts of the ham label. All canned hams must be refrigerated after opening. Those labeled "Perishable -- Keep Under Refrigeration' must be refrigerated before being

The A,B,Cs Of Vegetables

Are your sure your family's getting the A, B, C's of good nutrition? Vitamins, of course, are the answer and vegetables are one of our best vitamin sources. But all too often the vegetables are left uneaten.

Add a little creativity to your vegetable cookery, though, and you'll have some family-pleasers that provide good nutrition as well. The potato, the most ver-satile vegetable, is a perfect example. It's good tasting and good for you served so many different and delicious ways. A medium size potato is only about 90 calories, too -- good news if there's a dieter in your fam-

Potatoes, carrots and cabbage are a terrific A, B, C combinaget high quality vitamin A from carrots plus a helping of B vitamins and 1/3 your recom-mended daily allowance of vitamin C from the potatoes. The cabbage is also a good source of vitamin C. Together these vegetables also provide significant amounts of iron and other trace minerals. Cooking the vegetables in very little water is part of the nutrition story -- it's the best cooking method for conserving all the vitamins and minerals. "Almost-Real Butter Sauce" adds extra rich flavor without increasing caloreis.

It's nice to know that something so good is good for you,

VITAMO VEGETABLES 6 medium round potatoes, un-

Pepper 2 chicken bouillon cubes

1 1/2 teaspoons butter flavor-

1/2 teaspoons lemon juice tablespoon chopped parsley green onion, chopped

In large heavy Dutch oven with tight-fitting lid, in one inch water. cook potatoes and carrots, covered, 30 minutes or until fork tender. Meanwhile, prepare a "steaming basket" so that cabbage can steam without flavor transfer: with sharp knife, cut about 10 slits in a piece of aluminum foil cut large enough to cover potatoes and carrots. About 10 minutes before potatoes and carrots are done, place foil tray over vegetables in Dutch oven; add cabbage shreds. Cook until cabbage is tender-crisp and potatoes and carrots are tender.

Remove vegetables with slotted spoon and arrange on serving platter; sprinkle withsalt and pepper; cover to keep warm. To remaining liquid in Dutch oven, add enough water to make 1 1/2 cups. Bring to a boil. Add bouillon cubes, stirring to dissolve. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour some of the hot butter' sauce over vegetables before serving. Pass remaining

Herbs In The Vegetable Garden

Herbs are the "spice" of the plant world as well as the kitchen and deserve a corner in every garden. To assure an early herb yield start the seeds indoors and transplant them to the garden as soon as the soil is warm.

Some herbs are perennials, like mint, chives, savory and sage. They will sprout season after season.

Others, like basil and parsley, can be transferred to clay pots in the fall and arranged on a sunny window sill for use in the

Bobby Vinton

Vinton, who recorded the songs
"Roses Are Red and "Blue Velvet," will star nightly Sunday through Friday (June 24-29). But the weekend will kick off with country singer Wanda Jackson on Saturday, June 23. An international singing favorite, her music bridges the gap between, pop, rock and roll and country, putting together a repertoire to please any listener. Her shows are scheduled for 6:30, 8:30 and 10:30 p.m.

Dynamic and personable are just two adjectives used to describe Bobby Vinton, the "love song singer." But just like any person who strives to better himself, Vinton says, "I want people to relate to me for what I am now. I'm older, wiser and a better entertainer now than when I recorded 'Red Roses'." He has played all of the largest nightclubs in the House at President Nixon's request. Vinton performs (June

Nectarines Adapt Well To Cooking

Egg Prices To Decline

Egg prices will decline slight-ly as a plentiful seasonal supply is now available through summer. For high quality protein, eggs are good at any meal. "In fact, they are a protein bargain," says University of California Home Advisor Sharon Higgins.

A dozen large eggs weigh 1 1/2 pounds. So, when large eggs are 60 to 70 cents a dozen, this high-quality protein costs only 50 cents a pound or less.

Think about two things when you buy eggs -- the size and the quality. The USDA grade shield on a carton of eggs tells the quality.

USDA grades mean that the eggs were graded by a Federal-State egg grader and packed in a clean plant. Most stores sell USDA grade AA or A eggs, reports the Los Angeles County Home Advisor.

Grade AA eggs are the most expensive. The white is thick and doesn't spread out much; the yolk Almost as high inquality as AA is USDA grade A. Grade AA and eggs are specially good for frying and poaching.

Egg sizes are based on weight per dozen. A dozen eggs must weigh the following minimum weight per dozen: Extra large -27 ounces; large - 24 ounces; medium - 21 ounces; and small -18 ounces.

Two eggs provide 12 grams of protein or about 20 per cent of the recommended daily allowance for an adult woman.

Best storage place for eggs, cooked or uncooked, is in the refrigerator or other cold place,' reminds Mrs. Higgins.

Most admirers of fresh California nectarines see no necessity for peeling the fruit's smeoth, fuzz-free skin, either for recipes or when eating nectarines out of

They regard the radiant redand gold skin as an integral part of the fruit, and much too pretty to waste.

But if you're determined to get rid of the skin, cover nectarines with boiling water about one minute and then the skin strips off easily without damaging the rosy blush directly beneath it.

In markets from June to September, fresh nectarines are fine fruit for many spring and summer dishes. When recipes call for cutting nectarines in halfremember these procedures: Starting at the stem end of a freestone nectarine. cut completely around the fruit. cup the halves in your hand, twist them apart and remove the

For clingstone varieties insert a grapefruit knife through the stem end, cut all the way around the pit, pull out the pit with the knife through the stem end or slice around the fruit and lift the pit out, then cut the nectarine into halves. Here is a recipe for lemon-herbed nectarines that is a companion for crisp filet of sole or most any fresh fish. It would go well with salmon steaks, tuna patties, fish and shrimp, or batter-fried shrimp.

cup real mayonnaise 1/4 cup chopped green onion 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel

1/4 teaspoon tarragon leaves, crumbled 1/8 teaspoon dried dill 2 or 3 large fresh California

nectarines tablespoon lemon juice Fish fillets

Lemon slices and parsley for Combine mayonnaise with pickle, onion, mustard, lemon peel, and herbs. Cover and refriger-ate an hour or longer to mellow flavors. Cut nectarines in half, remove pits and rizzzle lemon juice over cut surfaces. Spoon lemon-herbed mayonnaise in center of each nectarine half; pass remainder separately. Serve with crispy fish fillets. Garnish with lemon slices and parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Sprinkle 4 to 6 fillets of sole with 1 teaspoon seasoned salt and 1/4 teaspoon white pepper. Drizzle with I tablespoon lemon juice. Dip in cornflakes crumbs to coat (about 1/2 cup). Saute in 2 tablespoons butter and 1 tablespoon oil until golden brown and fish is tender. Carefully remove to serving platter.

A new 48-page summer fruits cook-booklet for peaches, pears, plums, and nectarines is available free by sending a stamped, self - addressed, business-size envelope to: The Fruits Of Summer, 701 Fulton Ave., Sacramento, California 95825.

If you're planning a special dinner and are thinking of something memorable for dessert, spend a little extra time and know it's worth it by preparing nectarine lemon cream tarts.

If you're really rushed for time or if you want this dessert for a less gala occasion, you may wish to omit pastry shells and simply serve the dessert in sherbet dishes.

Apple Pie Disappearing, Says Nutrition Expert

Motherhood got a black eye recently when a nutrition expert charged that the average Ameri-can mother today doesn't know what her family is eating.

Moreover, the American mother doesn't manage the household but instead she just restocks supplies and fixes meals that account for only one-third to one-half of her family's daily food intake, according to Dr. Paul A. Fine, a psychologist and communications expert.

Dr. Fine made his charges in a report delivered before an American Medical Association symposium on food habits and purchasing patterns.

Part of a larger work on the general health and diet of the American family, Dr. Fines's views appear in a new booklet entitled Food & Fitness. The booklet is one of a continuing series of handy home guides to better health and is available free of charge from Blue Cross of Southern California.

Dr. Fine claims that after 15 years of interviewing housewives for his food industry clients, he has discovered that housewives are prisoners of myths. When questioned about family eating habits, Dr. Fine claims, housewives traditionally stress the importance of homecooked breakfast, lunch and dinner, Wrong, says Dr. Fine. Only a small part of the day's autrition comes from the traditional three-meals-per-day patterns. According to his study, nearly 40 percent of the food money of an urban American family goes for food served away from

Responsibility for preparing food is shifting from mom to the food services and food manufacturing establishment, Dr. Fine

Most affected is the noon meal. instead of lunching at home, most of the family eats at the factory or office lunchrooms, school cafeteria, snack shop or food counter. Even if dad or the children carry home-prepared lunches, he says, they will most likely supplement the carried lunch with additional items such as soft drinks, potato chips, can-dy bars and coffee.

Nutritionally-balanced meals are also losing ground to be-tween-meal snacks, he says. Coffee breaks, for instance, have emerged as an American innave emerged as an American in-stitution, and must be considered as part of the day's diet, accord-in to Dr. Fine, Dad gulps down untold cups of coffee at work, sometimes with sweet rolls and other snacks. Mom, at work, at home, or out shopping, does the same. Vending machines provide candy, snacks and soft drinks for the children at school.

Americans also have the world's largest appetite for 'junk foods' --preparations which offer little if any essential nutrients except calories, he says.

At work, dad has an afternoon coffee break, and children coming home from school look forward to "snack time." Even mothers who try to maintain a no-snack-before-dinner rule frequently fail to eliminate kitchen raids on po-tato chips, candy, soft drinks, cookies, cold cuts and refriger-ator left-overs. Sandwiches and combinations of several items constitute mini-meals that kill the appetite for well-balanced Dinner remains the one meal at which the family can enjoy a planned meal together, Dr. Fine points out. But time is a factor.

The Food & Fitness booklet is available free of charge at Blue Cross of Southern California offices. Readers may also write to the Public Affairs Dept., Blue Cross of Southern California, 4777 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles at Hollywood Bowl on Thursday, July 5 at 8:30 p.m. on the first of the pre-season week's Bach/Mozart Festival events.

Concertos Featured At Bowl

Under the baton of David Zinman, who will have made his Bowl debut the previous night at the Fourth of July Fireworks Picnic Concert, the Philharmonic will perform Bach's buoyant Fourth Brandenburg Concerto; Mozart's First and Third Horn Concertos with Barry Tuckwell as soloist, and Bach's Harpsichord Concerto in F Minor with Susanne Shapiro at the keyboard. The program closes with Bach's Suite No. 3 in D, the one with the well-loved "Air," often called "Air on the G String."

The four 18th century concertos provide intriguing soloistic variety. In the Brandenburg, the solo group consisting of a violin and two flutes is omni-present and virtuosically active; the performers will be from the Philharmonic's splendid ranks.

Barry Tuckwell's amazing Mozart horn playing athletics are well-known to Bowl audiences, for the virtuoso performer has delighted them the past two consecutive summers playing the same composer's Second and Fourth Concertos on different evenings. What a bonus, getting two Barry Tuckwell performances for the price of less than Susanne Shapiro, too, has be-come a familiar performer with the Philharmonic, having ap-peared often at the harpsichord in past seasons.

American conductor Zinman, director of the Netherlands Chamber Orchestra for the past decade, and music-director-elect of the Rochester Philharmonic, will be demonstrating to Los Angeles audiences in the two Bach/ Mozart concerts he conducts the reasons he has become one of the most acclaimed young conductors in Europe. Bowl audiences are fortunate indeed to have the opportunity to become acquainted with Zinman's wellestablished Bach/Mozart credentials -- they are reputed to be outstanding.

These preseason concerts provide the best opportunity for boxes at the Bowl -- only $4 for an excellent box seat. Other good seats at $2 and $3. Children 12 and under half price on any child, any time, in any family. Most often, s a mild cold or the 24hour flu. But, sometimes the health problem is more serious, and the child is physically unable to attend regular school classes for longer periods of time.

The Education Code states that California public schools have responsibility for providing equal educational opportunities for all children in the state. This means well or sick -- able to run and play or lying in a body cast. When a student can't come to the school, school must be brought to the student through a home teacher.

In some school districts, this service is provided on the district level, and these programs vary. But for districts with an average daily attendance under 8,000, home teach-ers must be offered by the County Superintendent of Schools Office.

Mrs. Alice Krehbiel, Consultant in Special Education, heads a team of 20 teachers who provide home teaching for Colton, Rialto, Yucaipa and direct service districts in the West End of the county, as well as all children, except those from San Bernardino City, at the County General Hospital. Mrs. Krehbiel said that every child in this program receives five hours of individualized instruction each week during regular school hours. "Through counseling with the parents, the student, and the school, a schedule is planned that matches classroom requirements as closely as possible,"

According to Mrs. Krehbiel, teachers are selected carefully to fit the child's emotional "Sometimes the child's only contact with the outside world is the home teacher. It's important that teacher and child relate to each other.' Relating to kids is Estelle Roberts' business. She's one of the "Krehbiel girls," and she handles the challenge of home teaching with the ease of a long-distance runner.

Mrs. Roberts feels that positive reinforcement is even more important in home teaching than in the regular classroom. "Sick children are under a great deal of stress already. They don't need any additional pressure. Anyway, I find that handicapped children are always in a hurry," she said. "They push themselves.'

Both Mrs. Krehbiel and Mrs. Roberts stress the importance of keeping close contact with each child's regular teacher. Mrs. Roberts keeps a daily record of each child's performance that is turned in to the school with the grade card at the end of each assignment.

Home teachers must be flexible, "I am in all kinds of homes, in all kinds of circumstances, and it's important to the child's well being that I can blend into the exist-ing environment," Mrs. Roberts noted, "If the child feels more comfortable on the bedroom floor, that's where I teach.

Home teaching requires a great deal of preparation. According to Mrs. Roberts, "We must be able to provide as much of the total school curriculum as possible in the most condensed form. That takes planning.

She said that the hardest part of home teaching is remembering everything that must be taken to each house, "I carry a shopping bag full of supplies for each student, plus additional audio-visual equipment, a typewriter, a microscope, and and iron for arts and Parents are extremely enthusiastic about the county schools home teaching staff. One mother said, "My child's edu-cation was the best."

Another parent com-mented, "My son went into class after missing the first two months of school without a single problem.

Among the many parents who have expressed special appreciation for home teacher Mrs. Daisy Atkins was the mother who wrote, "She is highly qualified (even in the new math), a great teacher, and a wonderful person. Mrs. Atkins will retire this year after serving as a teacher in the county for 27 years.

But most importantly, students in the home teaching program like it. One little girl summed up the feelings of students questioned when she said, It was so good not worrying about getting behind, or worse, failing all my subjects. Thank you."

119 Volunteers Honored Here

ers Hospital for Crippled Children honored 119 volunteer workers for contributing 15,916 hours to aid from insurance plans the hospital in 1972. The volunteers were guests of honor recently at the hospital's 20th Annual Volunteer Recognition Awards ties is raised entirely by ceremonies and received certificates and pins in recognition of their service.

conducted by Miss Valerie A. Goodman, R.N., the hospital's Administrator. Presenting the awards was Leo E. Anderson, chairman of the hospital's Board of Governors and Past Potentate of Al Malaikah Shrine Temple.

Receiving the major award at the ceremonies was Mrs. Barney Selten, of Cheviot Hills, one of the first women to volunteer her services when the hospital opened in 1952, who has logged 5,014 hours of service.

Since the hospital opened in February 1952. Miss Goodman reported. volunteers have contributed over 250,000 hours of service. Due to our volunteer program the Los Angeles Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children is able to operate at an average of $48.82 per patient day, which is less than half the national average for fully accredited orthopedic hospitals in the Uni-ted States."

The Los Angeles Shrin-ers Hospital for Crippled Children is a 60-bed orthopedic hospital and its annual operating budget exceeds $1 million, Miss Goodman reported. Since the hospital opened in 1952, she said, over 6,000 crippled and severely burned children have been helped toward a more normal life. All treatment and services are provided free to indigent children who parents cannot afford private care and is provided to children between the ages of two months and 16 years regardless of race, creed or national origin.

Alexander Hamilton

By his character and leadership, Alexander Hamilton established in America the policy of SOUND MONEY.

He was a brilliant statesman who became the first Secretary of Treasury of George Washington's cabinet. The nation had no money or credit.

Hamilton's management of the nation's financial problems greatly strengthened the new government.

Not Without Honor...

In 1804, Hamilton became involved in a political dispute with Aaron Burr. Burr challenged him to a duel, in which Hamilton was killed. The monument erected over his grave in Old Trinity Churchyard, New York, bears this tribute to him: "The Patriot of incorruptable integrity; the soldier of approved valor; the statesman of commensurate wisdom.

Q: Can you help settle an argument for us? How long does a dollar bill last before it "wears out" and what happens to the old

A: The life of a dollar bill averages about 16 or 17 months. Dollar bills account for most of the currency which has to be replaced, and more than a billion dollar bills are continually incirculation. Banks send old, worn, torn or mutilated bills to the Treasury Department for exchange. The old conditioner, what is meant by BTU?

Unit (BTU) is the official standard used to measure the amount of heat required to raise water temperature one degree.

The average sized room can be properly cooled by a unit between 6,000 to 7,000 BTUs, which means it will remove 6,000 to 7,000 BTUs of heat per hour. The higher the BTU rating, the greater the cooling power of the unit.
